Ohwon has a theory on the origin of Xanadu and believes that he is actually a robot and alien in origin. Ohwon noted that humans had the tech to send out messages but received nothing back. Crunchy then went to Las Vegas and ran into Papazudo, Lush, and some of the Host. Crunchy hitched across the old Route 66 and ran into many super-powered beings along the way. She spotted the clones of Unitas and decided to calm down while tracking them around the city. Eventually, she found the anti-unit and hated him. The Nazis captured Edna and forced her back to the search for the ship. The Allies arrived and chased off the Nazis but didn't realize Edna was still underwater. Edna was trapped and died. Eddie Towers (Totem) was Edna's granddaughter. Eddie trained as a deep-sea explorer.

DEW: Totem was searching the ship where her grandmother died when the DEW hit. At first, she was transformed into a coral object. The coral object looked like it had a face carved into it and there was a mouth hole. When Evolucia parted the section of the Med Sea to create the site of Atlantis, her Atlanteans discovered Totem trapped in her coral form. Evolucia and Boogey Girl Cassie spoke to Totem, but they didn't get along because Totem claimed to be a beautiful girl even though the coral face was hideous. In her coral form, Totem was able to weave pearls and spit them out the mouth hole. The pearls had precog powers and would change color based on upcoming events. Evolucia and Cassie made jewelry from the pearls. Manatee showed up and wanted pearls, but Totem refused, so Manatee cracked open the coral to get at Totem. Totem in her mermaid form emerged and she escaped to the water.

In past periods she is worshipped as a goddess. Her ability to exist in the past is volatile and doesn't last long, also she can't travel far from the location where she started. Cuckoo Mittens and Fly Pig were in Egypt close to Bill Ides's temple when DEW hit. They hang out with Bill pretending to be his muses, but they have secret loyalty to Atlantis.

FLY PIG: power of uncanny luck (she can guess lock combos, walk through minefields, survive ten story falls) Anything nearly impossible is likely for her.

BILL IDES: the most powerful telepath on Earth. He can control the minds of billions of people at a time. He can erase memories. Under duress, he can control the minds of superpowered beings.

Bill Ides pulled out his eyes during the DEW event. He has long white hair and a long white beard. He wears a long regal robe.

Bill was an author of history books, and he was a world traveler. He wrote guidebooks despite living his whole life blind. He married and divorced once.

DEW: Bill's power is slowly driving him mad. He was in Egypt researching the temple that was to become his home. The pain of his transformation was so great that he gouged out his blind eyes. Scoobird showed up and helped him. He uses locals as an army and slave force to serve his needs. He can contact all superpowered beings mentally, but he cannot control them. However, he can control all nonpowered beings except for a small population, such as the Root. His power is managed through going to a special "time-lapse" dimension. Bill's plan is to transition world power seamlessly over to superpowered beings. First, he has to prepare regular people and make sure all the superpowered beings are buying into the project.

Manuka is a slug-like monster. His hard shell resembles the prehistoric trilobite. He has a bug face with bug eyes and a mouth of razor-sharp teeth. He has four digits on his massive hands and feet.

Manuka was a male escort along the Riviera and had met Cassie before DEW. He conceals his past and pretends that he was a casino security director.

DEW: Manuka and Cassie teamed up and he was her bodyguard for a time. In Cassie's dreamworld, Manuka appears as a giant slim mosquito-man named Mr. Black. Later, Manuka revealed his avarice and turned against Atlantis. His betrayal broke Cassie's heart and she tries to get Manuka to turn away from evil deeds.

Manatee was Evolucia's father, and they ran a small bookstore together in Barcelona.

DEW: Manatee hunts and kills superpowered beings. His greatest fear is that he would feel compelled to kill Evolucia. There was a superhero named Papa Gaga aka Super G. Gaga had traditional Superman powers and fashioned his look after Hulk Hogan, however, he was clumsy in logic and often his intended good deeds were disastrous in execution. Gaga hired a trio of PR guys from the Root. He did a PR stunt where he fulfilled a wish for a sick child. The child wanted to walk on the moon, so Gaga flew to the moon and punched out a piece which he brought back to Earth, however, a piece of the moonrock chipped off and landed on a school killing many children inside. Gaga's PR team pushed for Gaga to become President. Manatee decided to judge Gaga and deemed him unworthy of his powers. Manatee attacked and murdered Gaga.

EVOLUCIA: controls water. Can summon animals. She is slowly getting younger and younger.

Lucia's skin is an emerald green, and sections are hard and scaly. Her hair is purple coral. She wears a pearl belt made of pearls made by Totem. She wears the shell of her father, Manatee, as a helmet.

Lucia was a retired, small business owner living in Barcelona. She had a small bookstore of curious titles. She worked with her father at the store.

DEW: Evolucia and Manatee were relaxing on the beach when the DEW hit, and they began transforming. Evolucia started getting younger, but the process started slowing down. Her father got younger as well but then devolved into ancestor animal states eventually becoming a fish-baby. Lucia went to pick up the baby but the body collapse and fell out of a hard shell. The guts of the fish-baby frothed in the Sun and Manatee was born. He slipped into the sea and later evolved into his monster form. Evolucia moved to the Greek Islands and raised a section of the Mediterranean Sea to unearth an ancient city. Scribe used his powers to rebuild the city as a paradise. Evolucia is the leader of Atlantis, and the city is a haven for all superpowered beings who are cooperative and peaceful. Bill Ides and Ginman are against the "elitism" of Atlantis.

BOOGY GIRL CASSIE: can use dreamworlds and in waking life can summon apparitions based on the nightmare fears of others.

Cassie has grey-silvery skin and multi-colored neon hair. Cassie wears part of Manuka as a helmet.

Whatever material he carves his plans into become a legion of workers to execute on the plans. The workers convert into the material needed to fulfill the construction plans. Scribe can also summon his workers as soldiers to protect Atlantis.

Scribe is ibis-headed, and he wears a long robe over a powerful physique.

Little is known of Scribe's past although he is probably Greek.

DEW: Scribe joined Evolucia and helped her build Atlantis. Scribe has a secret language with Evolucia, and the language allows them to conduct private business without alerting telepaths. The language is based on books that both Evolucia and Scribe are familiar with.

EPIC: super strength, agility, endurance, and durability that are slowly growing over time. After attacking Bill Ides, his powers stop increasing yet he siphoned mental powers from Bill which Bill secretly grants to Epic.

Epic is a big kid and was being scouted in high school by top college football teams. He has a blonde chinstrap and keeps his hair scruffy.

Epic went to high school with the other members of the Realness.

DEW: Epic was eager to travel to Egypt to stop Bill Ides. He was angry and scared about how Bill was making his family and friends ignore him. Epic was enjoying using sports equipment to fend off Bill's legions of mind-slaves in Egypt. Eventually, the casual murder weighed on his conscience and turning it into a game didn't work as an excuse. He moved on Bill and attacked him. Bill tried to turn Epic against the rest of the Realness and Epic was calling himself "God Mode" and acting like a disciple of Bill Ides. The Realness knocked Epic free from Bill's clutches (or so they thought). Amp left the team. Eventually, Epic, Fail, and Flunky joined Bill Ides and worked to bring about his vision for the future of Earth.

SCOOBIRD: high-powered pyrokinetic. Medium level telepath.

Scoo has a somber demeanor. He never smiles. He wears regular clothes and suits.

Scoo's wife passed away a year before the DEW and Scoo became bitter that she wasn't given a chance to gain superpowers. He fantasizes about her having water-powers to counter his fire. He has a weird fetish for Evolucia. He was a freelance architect who had been hired to help with the archaeological restoration project where Bill's temple is located.

DEW: Scoobird was at Bill's temple when DEW hit. Bill talks to Scoo as if he were a bird and "shoos" him away when Scoobird displeases him. Scoobird sees himself as Bill's conscience. Bill's demeaning of Scoobird has the effect of making Bill unintuitive about Mr Baird being a telepathic dog.

RULE: necromancer, with a variety of malevolent spells. Energy projection.

Rule is of Persian descent and has a long dark beard. He is very tall and lanky. He wears a ceremonial Persian robe and Persian warrior helmet.

Rule was an Iranian politician and Mullah. He cared nothing for Islam and secretly he studied ancient religions. He was a follower of the cult of Baal.

DEW: After transforming, Rule began restructuring the Middle East using his powers. He caused typhoons in India which wiped out millions. He forced Iraqis to serve Persians as a slave caste. When he turned his attention to Israel, Bill Ides interfered. Rule and Bill battled, but Rule was humbled and submitted to Rule's will.

FLUNKY: power to manipulate oxygen molecules. She can rust metal and disintegrate it. She can make substances explode. She can cut off air supply to living creatures. She could destroy the Ozone layer if she understood her powers better.
